MINORITY REPORT ONLY

Texas Labor Law Revision Bill Given Small Chance

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill representing labor's only hope for weakening restrictive Texas labor laws will reach the House on a minority report from the Labor Committee.

A majority of the panel Monday recommended that the House not pass the bill by Rep. Blake Timmons of Amarillo repealing 11 laws and wrapping up modified versions in a single act.

It would also create a mediation and conciliation service and allow arbitration of disputes by mutual agreement of management and labor.

PRISON TERMS

Czechs Convict Yanks As Spies

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Two American soldiers have been sentenced to prison terms of 10 and 12 years on charges of spying against Czechoslovakia, the official press bureau said today.

The men, under arrest since Dec. 9, were convicted at a secret trial last Saturday.

The men were arrested when they wanted to cross the border last December. American authorities in Germany said they were absent without leave from their units.

Czech authorities insisted the two G.I.s were on a secret mission and refused the American embassy officials the right to see or talk with them.

The press bureau announcement said Alexander Jones, alias Hunter, was sentenced to 10 years. Clarence Hill was sentenced to 12 years. The men previously had been identified as Clarence R. Hill, 31, of Jackson, Minn., and George R. Jones, 22, of Owensboro, Ky.

U. S. embassy officials were considering today what steps they could take.

Soldiers AWOL, Declares Army

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — U. S. Army headquarters declared today that two American soldiers convicted in Prague of espionage "definitely were not spies."

"They were not on any mission but were absent without leave when they went into Czechoslovakia," an official Army spokesman said.

The men were members of the sixth Army Cavalry Regiment of the U. S. Cavalry in Germany.

Tax-Free Gas Bill for Cities Wins Approval

House Committee Raises Hopes For Bettering Finances

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP) — Texas cities pleading they are in desperate financial condition because of limited tax resources were given some measure of hope Monday night by a House committee.

The House Committee on Revenue and Taxation recommended passage of one bill urged by spokesmen for the cities, sent another to subcommittee for one week of further study and asked the attorney general for an opinion of constitutionality of another.

Recommended outright for passage was a measure exempting gasoline used by fire trucks, police cars and other municipal equipment from payment of the 4 cent a gallon state sales tax on gasoline.

Sent to subcommittee was another requiring that property taxes be paid on automobiles before their owners can get license plates. Sent to the attorney general was the bill providing for remission to the cities of three-fourths of the gasoline taxes paid by bus and taxicab companies operating under franchise or permits issued by municipalities.

The remission measure was the one estimated to be worth most in dollars to city treasuries.

Rent Bill to Reach Truman by Nightfall

Swift Action Promised On 15-Month Extender

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today approved compromise legislation to continue rent controls 15 months. The bill also provides for "home rule" control and a "fair new operating income" for landlords.

Months could be delivered to President Truman by nightfall. The forecasts came from Sen. Lucas (Ill.), majority leader of the Senate, and Rep. McCormack (Mass.), the House Democratic floor leader.

Their optimism wasn't dimmed by the prospect of sharp attacks on the compromise measure. Sen. Bricker (R-O) told a reporter he might move to send the bill back to the joint Senate-House Conference Committee which approved it Monday in the House several members indicated they plan to blast the bill.

Time, meanwhile, was running out. At midnight Thursday the present rent law expires. Democratic leaders expect Mr. Truman to sign the extension measure once it gets to the White House, even though it isn't nearly as tight a bill as he wanted.

FOR PAYING

Charter Change Study Ordered For May Vote

City Attorney William A. Blalock was directed by the City Commission Monday night to initiate a review of the city charter to determine amendments necessary to bring it up to date.

The commission specifically asked for amendments to cover all changes in charter provisions necessary to give full effect here to such changes as have occurred in the Texas paying law.

The latter action came as City Manager E. E. Justice reported progress toward completion of estimated costs to the city and property owners for various types of street paving in Marshall.

It was indicated that such amendments as are deemed necessary will be offered for a vote probably sometime in May.

NOTES SURVEY PROGRESS — Mr. Justice also reported that progress was being made in work of a field survey crew now preparing necessary contour map of the city with a view to proper placement of major sanitary sewage collection mains and lift stations to permit extension of that service to all sections of the city not served at this time.

Commissioners indicated opposition to a bill before the legislature providing for summary sale of property on which taxes are delinquent for three years or more.

Here's Comparison Of Rent Law Provisions

WASHINGTON (U) — Here is a comparison of the major provisions of the present rent law with the main sections of the compromise bill approved by a Senate House Conference Committee:

DECONTROL. Individual states could remove rent controls throughout the state, or in parts of the state, if the legislature passed a law calling for that and the governor approved it. If the governor vetoed it, the legislature could override him.

Compromise Bill: Individual states could remove rent controls throughout the state, or in parts of the state, if the legislature passed a law calling for that and the governor approved it. If the governor vetoed it, the legislature could override him.

Present Law: There can be no decontrol unless the housing expediter approves it. Local rent advisory boards submit recommendations, but the expediter can reject them.

INCREASES. Compromise Bill: It requires the housing expediter to fix rents at a level to assure landlords a "fair net operating income . . . so far as is practicable."

Present Law: Sets up certain

"hardship" criteria which the landlord must meet to qualify for an increase. The law also has a section, permitting rent increases up to 15 per cent when the landlord and tenant agree on that in exchange for a lease barring additional increases for a specified period. That section is not in the bill.

EVICTIONS. Compromise Bill: It empowers the housing expediter to write eviction regulations designed to apply uniformly throughout the country.

Present Law: Federal jurisdiction over evictions is limited. Local eviction laws govern for the most part.

TREBLE DAMAGES. Compromise Bill: The expediter could sue for treble damages in case of rent overcharges.

Present Law: Only tenants can sue for treble damages, and few do.

RECONTROL OF AREAS. Compromise Bill: The expediter is authorized to recontrol any areas he decontrols on his own initiative after March 31. He could recontrol areas freed of rent curbs before that date only if the local rent advisory board recommended it.

Present Law: The expediter has no authority to recontrol.

Fast-Drawing New Yorker Asks Kentucky Police Job

HARLAN, Ky. (U) — A New Yorker, who promises to outdraw, outshoot and outlive the toughest hounds in Harlan County, wants to be chief of police at Everts.

Everts is a coal mining community near here that has had five police chiefs since last August. One was slain, another was wounded, two resigned, and the fifth was recently convicted of manslaughter.

Now, dozens want the job. Despite the threats and gunplay that have made the office an uneasy spot in this mountainous southeastern part of Kentucky, more than 200 persons have applied to the mayor of Everts for the role of Mr. Big or Mrs. Big.

One was a 41-year-old bespectacled woman, Mrs. Pearl Kathrine Burrus of Lexington. Mrs. Burrus pledged to bring law and order to Everts without using a gun.

Bill Williams of New York City was the one who promised to outshoot all the rough and ready hounds aroundabouts. Williams addressed his letter to "Hon. Mayor, Harlan County, Ky."

The letter was delivered to City Clerk Carl Caton of Harlan, and Caton tossed it away, just as he had done with the other applications for the Everts job that have found their way to his desk.

He said that with all the applications the mayor of Everts had received from all parts of the country, he didn't suppose the mayor wanted to be bothered with any more.

French Railroads Try Rubber-Tired Trains

AKRON, O. — Railroad trains that run on pneumatic rubber tires are being tried out in France, the B. F. Goodrich Co. reports.

French government-operated railroads are experimenting with three special trains mounted on air-filled tires molded to fit regular railroad tracks. Each car is equipped with double the normal number of wheels, the idea being to distribute the weight.

The principal advantage is a smoother, quieter, more comfortable ride for passengers. In addition, there probably will be far less wear and tear on the train.

Some Furore Seen on Pact Hearings But It Will Get Necessary Majority

Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has announced that public hearings—wide-open public hearings—will be held starting April 4 on the North Atlantic Security Pact. These hearings will last at least a week, he said.

Senator George of Georgia said they might go on much longer, so "the people can be heard."

That is all to the good, of course; but in these and similar hearings the people seldom are heard. Instead, 99 percent of the testimony comes from the representatives of special groups, or from individuals who are forever turning up in Washington to bask for an hour or two in the public eye as spokesmen against this or that.

One can safely predict, for instance, some of the characters and groups who will muscle in on the Atlantic Pact hearings. Mr. Henry Wallace will be there as a bitter opponent. So will other vocal opponents of the American foreign policy. So will the spokesmen and spokeswomen of various pacifistic organizations, Communist front organizations and isolationist outfits and individuals.

We wouldn't be surprised if some of the leftist groups do a bit of picketing and placard-toting in and around the Capitol. Telegrams from opponents of the pact will pour in from all points of the compass, 95 percent of them reading almost identically the same.

Already some isolationists in the Senate are stirring. They are getting restive, and threatening to make an issue of this or that article in the pact. We shouldn't do this, or we shouldn't do that. If we do this, Russia will start shooting. It will be like tuning in, from the outer spaces of time, some of the America First rallies of pre-Pearl Harbor Days.

But in the end the Senate will ratify the pact by the necessary two-thirds majority. America has grown up in foreign affairs, and the American people, like the American Congress, realize that we are living in the Atomic Age, not the age of blissful ignorance and ostrich-like unconsciousness.

"Truman's trouble is, simply, that his virtues are altogether too private. He has none of the political leader's arts. He does not calculate the moment to act. He does not watch his words. He cannot capitalize an occasion. Above all, he does not sense political situations. He won by a narrow majority on Nov. 2, running far behind his ticket. If he was to be master thereafter, he had to win over the numerous group who believed in his program enough to vote for other Democratic candidates, but did not believe in him and did not vote for him." — Joseph Alsop.

"My own opinion is that, for the present, Mr. Truman has completely lost control of events and that public opinion will blame him, rather than his opponents, for any future failures. He asked for a Democratic Congress, he got a Democratic Congress. Now he has handled things so that he is back where he was with a Republican Congress and this kind of futility is not what the President promised the voters in return for their support last year." — Jay Franklin.

"The western world has given through the North Atlantic Pact something more than notice that it will resist armed attack from aggressor. What has been evolved is a new approach to the problem of world organization — a new League of Nations within the United Nations structure. Means of military co-operation to resist attack have been formulated, to be sure, but there is also set up machinery for practical co-operation in the field of economic as well as cultural programs." — David Lawrence.

GERMAN PRESIDENCY POST IS WIDE OPEN

Western Sector Residents Speculate in All Political Fields

By JAMES DEVLIN

BONN, Germany, March 22. (U.S. Press)—Who is going to be western Germany's first postwar president? Germans are starting to guess—with even more chance of going wrong than the Truman-Dewey experts.

None of the parties has announced candidates. The guessers consequently have the whole range of German political figures to choose from.

The President is scheduled to be elected sometime this spring or summer. The people will choose the parliament. The lower house of parliament, and an equal number of state delegates, will elect the President.

Here is how the guessing goes in the corridors of the German parliamentary council, which is drawing up a constitution, or "basic law":

Presidential possibilities: Dr. Conrad Adenauer, veteran leader of the Christian Democratic Party (CDU) various social Democrats, and Prof. Theodor Heuss, leader of the Free Democratic Party (FDP).

Possibilities for prime minister, or chancellor, as the Germans call it: Kurt Schumacher, chairman of the Social Democratic Party (SPD), Erich Ollenhauer, SPD vice chairman, Prof. Ernst Reuter, SPD chairman of Western Berlin, and Prof. Carlo Schmid, leader of the SPD delegation at Bonn.

POLL CONDUCTED

(A Frankfurt newspaper polled its readers and said they preferred Prof. Karl Gellert of Heidelberg University, and SPD member, for president.)

The list probably will expand indefinitely as election fever mounts. Speculation by the political crystal gazers runs along two lines.

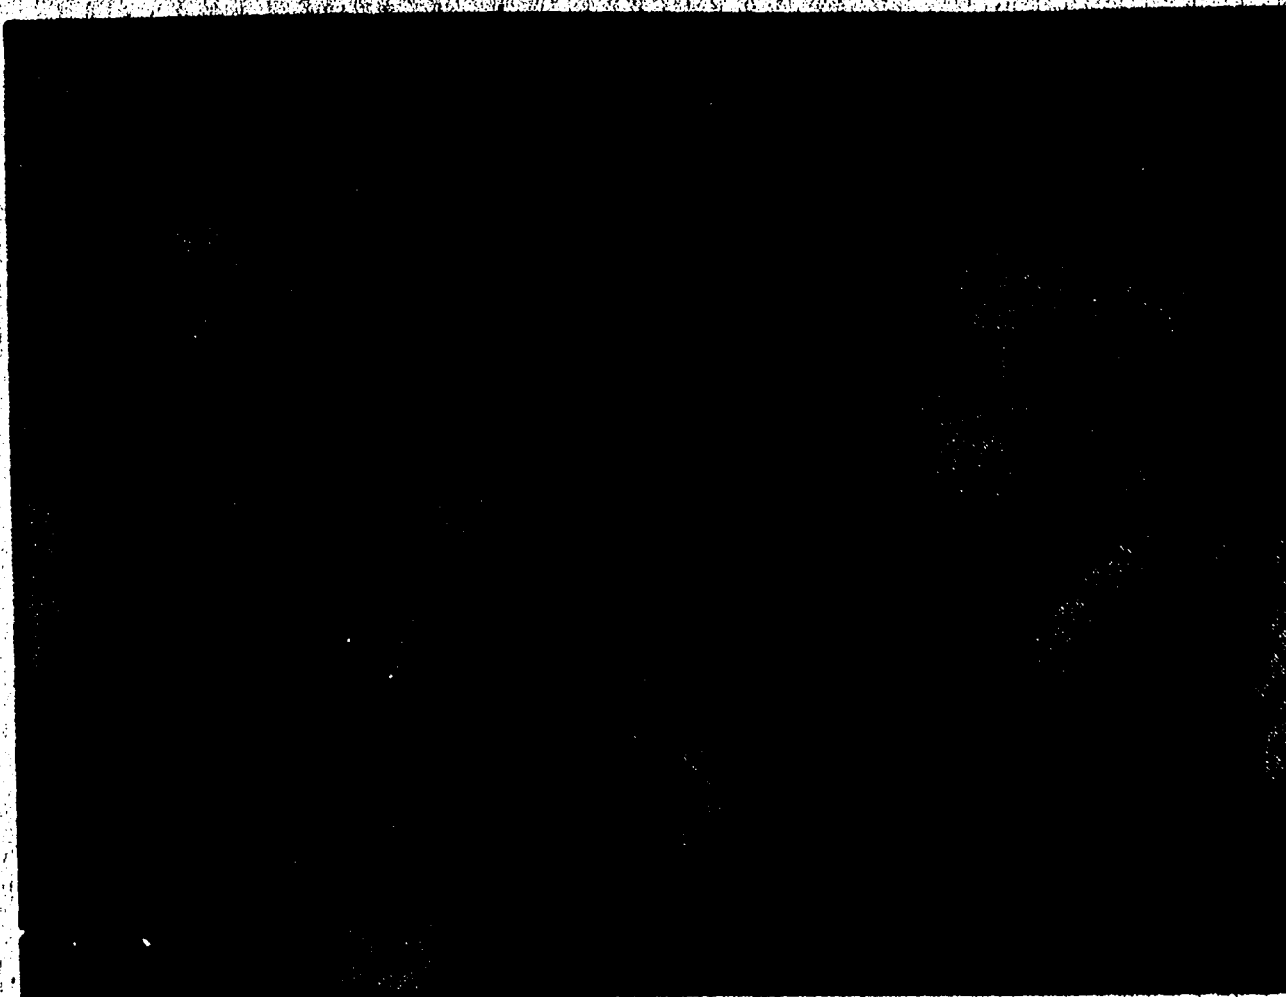

Both start with the assumption that the Christian Democrats and the Social Democrats will make a close race for first place in the popular election of the new parliament, as they have in previous postwar elections.

The Free Democrats, in the British Zone, and the liberal Democrats in the American Zone are expected to run some distance behind, with the Communists trailing badly.

As no party is likely to gain a clear-cut majority, there probably will be a coalition government with behind-the-scenes "deals" to place men in key posts.

THEORY ADVANCED

One theory is that neither of the two major parties will concede the other the honor of the presidency and that they will compromise on a "neutral" president.

In this case, Prof. Heuss or a counterpart from the liberal Democrats might win consideration.

The other theory is that the CDU and SPD will reach an agreement to share the presidency and the chancellorship between themselves rather than turn either over to a party that won only a small share of the popular vote.

The question is whether the two major parties could reach an agreement on how to divide the honors.

Political observers here believe the Christian Democrats want the presidency and the ministries of economics and culture-education.

Would the Social Democrats agree, in return for naming the chancellor, the minister of the interior and possibly the heads of several other ministries?

The size of each major party's share of the popular vote, is likely to be an important factor.

HIGH PRESTIGE

The chancellor, like the prime minister or premier in other European countries, is the government's "front man" and wields more actual power than the president.

But the presidency, particularly the first in the post war period, carries high prestige in German eyes.

If the CDU gains the presidency, observers here believe they might logically nominate Adenauer, one of their keenest minds, for the post.

The natural choice of the social Democrats, for either president or chancellor, in ordinary circumstances would be their internationally-known leader, Kurt Schumacher. But he has been suffering from a prolonged illness and it is a question whether his health would permit.

Because of Schumacher's illness, his deputy, Ollenhauer, is mentioned as a possible party choice.

Berlin Mayor Reuter's recent trip to England and France, where he conferred with leaders of those countries, increased speculation as to his possibilities for chancellor.

French-born Carlo Schmid, 53, is a rising star in the SPD. But he joined the party only a few years ago, and the party faithful often steer the top spots to those who have served the cause the longest.

Schmid has many qualities for a chancellor but he is too active and vigorous to be president," said one German observer.

This analyst said the Germans prefer for president a man who would be virtually above parties, able with his long experience to stee in and moderate intra-government disputes and generally give wise counsel.

They also like him to have a venerable demeanor, white hair, if possible, and generally fulfill the popular conception of how a president should look.

GLORIA SWANSON IS 50

Screen's First Glamor Girl Is Grandmother, Still Glamorous

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (U.S. Press)—Gloria Swanson is gonna hate me. I told her her age probably would go well down in the story. Now I find, through a little research, that Monday was her 50th birthday.

That fact belongs right up here at the start because, despite it, the movies' first glamor queen is still pretty glamorous.

She's a grandmother, but as alert as Olga San Juan. Her legs—at least as much as I could take sedate journalistic note of as she curled up in an easy chair—are in a class with Grables.

Nope. Grandma Gloria Swanson isn't on any shelf. She's back here from New York City, where she lives and has her own television show, to do a movie. "Sunset Boulevard" will be about an early day film siren (like Gloria herself) now living in seclusion (not like Gloria).

I wondered out loud, as we settled down over coffee in her hotel suite, how a woman at the half-century mark retains a considerable hunk of glamor.

"I wonder whether you mean 'glamor' or 'youth,'" Gloria wondered.

"It's not being bored. There are so many things to do. Look at my nose—I've got a curiosity about everything."

The nose turns up, a little. The chin is firm. The eyes are blue, the teeth and smile beautiful. Her lips and nails are neatly reddened. Her hair is gray and wavy—the latest thing from Paris.

But that word "glamor" bothered Gloria. "I wonder," she mused, "whether there really is such a word." She picked up the phone and called the hotel stenographer. Did the sten have a dictionary? She arrived with it in about five minutes.

"Glamor. Noun," the shorthand lady read. "A delusion wrought by magic spells; charm; enchantment. . . illusion; fascination; witchery."

Gloria commented: "I think there's a little bit of witchery in every woman. But I think it's more desirable to be called a decent person, a nice gal, than merely glamorous." (Gloria is the husband of a child-covered woman. A Christmas tree can be awfully attractive without all that junk on it.)

In the old days they called her "Glamorous Gloria." — "The reason I am sure, is that 'glamorous' was euphonious with my name."

A writer friend more recently called her a "mental vampire." At cocktail parties she backs other celebrated guests into corners and pumps them for their special information. She'll grill a surgeon about brain operations, an author about his new book on heredity.

"I had so little education," Gloria said. Chicago-born, an Army captain's daughter, she attended 18 grammar schools. She lived on Army posts, including Key West, Fla. and San Juan, Puerto Rico. At 18 she sang Sunday school solos in a mature soprano. Her ambition was to be an opera star.

She was 14½, and had had only a half year of high school, when she visited the old Essanay movie studio in Chicago with her aunt. "Oh, doesn't this look exciting!" she cried then. "I'd like to do it."

Gloria says now: "They just grabbed me. Stage actors scored the infant movie, and flicker players were hard to find. At 18 she came to Hollywood."

But (disappointingly): "I never made an epic, a 'Gone With the Wind.' I made program pictures. I was acclaimed more as a personality than as an actress."

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Pan Am's Lobbying Extensive As Air Routes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Pan American Airways not only operates airplanes to many corners of the world, but it operates lobbying activities to almost every corner of Washington. Free rides, fancy dinner parties, special airplanes at the disposal of senators and newspapermen are part of the way Pan American has helped to get its routes and fat mail subsidies.

The other day, however, Pan Am pulled a new wrinkle. It has had a dozen important cases pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

While waiting decision of these cases Pan Am staged a junket for some of the top government men who will pass on them.

In Pan Am's latest luxury liner, a Boeing stratoscruiser, Oswald Ryan, chairman of the CAB, plus four CAB officials flew to Miami, backed in the sun for three days, spent little money, ostensibly inspected Pan Am's Miami base. With Ryan went: Warner Hord, chief of the accounting and rates division; William Cusick, CAB examiner; Frank Crozier, special adviser on route matters; William Andrews, chief of the accident investigation bureau; Ed Slattery, CAB's publicity chief.

Quarried about details of this "inspection," the CAB claimed it was "routine." Just why the CAB permits its employees to accept favors from the same corporations CAB is charged by law to regulate remains a mystery.

However, there would be less corporate subsidy of government employees if congress would increase the pitifully inadequate travel allowance now paid them.

big Republican. . . Likewise on Truman's list to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board is a big-business Democrat—Floyd Odlum, head of the Atlas Corp. and director of United Fruit, Madison Square Garden. Last but not least, Odum is the husband of Jacqueline Cochran. She is the famed beauty-parlor magnate, aviator, and wartime organizer of the WASPs. . . Odum contributed heavily to the Truman campaign. . .

Under scrutiny to be undersecretary of national defense is Bob Hinkley, former undersecretary of commerce, onetime right bowler of Harry Hopkins in WPA, now vice president of the American Broadcasting Company. Hinkley, in love with his present work, won't easily be tempted to return to Washington.

Courtesies Of The Senate
It's against senate ethics for one senator to make an uncompromising remark about another on the senate floor. But that didn't stop Indiana Republican William Jenner from taking this off-the-record crack the other day at Minnesota's forthright Hubert Humphrey.

While Humphrey was speaking, Jenner whispered over his shoulder: "You know, looking at that guy reminds me of some tomatoes I planted once. I planted them too early in the spring and the frost got them."

On the Truman list to take Mon Wallgren's job is George Humphrey of Cleveland, biggest individual coal operator in the U.S.A. Humphrey is head of the M. H. Hanna Coal, National Steel, Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal; and director of Phelps Dodge Corp., National City Bank of Cleveland. Also, he's a

I intend to take my own position on public issues, not the committee's.

"The same goes for this new senatorial campaign committee (headed by G.O.P. Senator Owen Brewster of Maine and ex-Senator John Townsend of Delaware)," concluded Morse. "I'm going to make it clear that I don't want any money or help from this committee if it is conditioned on the committee telling me how to run my campaign."

A number of colleagues seconded Morse's views, among them Taft, who jumped to his feet and announced: "I'm in complete agreement with the gentleman on both points he raised."

Tito Tells Of Red Sub Base
Tito warns U.S.A.—Here is a strange tip — From Joe Stalin's onetime friend, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. He has informed the U.S. ambassador in Belgrade that Russia is secretly building a major submarine base off the Albanian coast, from which Red subs could disrupt all British-American shipping in the Mediterranean. Tito is leaning over backward to be friendly these days.

British housekeeping — British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks has to juggle his guest rooms carefully these days. After the visit of Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition in the British government, Sir Oliver will entertain his own boss, Foreign Minister Bevin, who will arrive for the signing of the Atlantic Pact.

Thumbs down on Sweden — The American embassy has flatly turned down Sweden's request to buy American radar equipment. Freeman Matthews, the U.S. ambassador, told the Swedish foreign minister that the U.S.A. has none to spare because it is building a radar fence around its borders. . .

Inside fact is that the army department has a some old radar equipment it could sell the Swedes, but it has no intention of doing so in view of the way the Swedes vetoed the North Atlantic pact.

Anti-Red Bill Starts Uproar

AUSTIN (U) — The House started a new stampede against communism today.

But the uproar ran head-on into a bloc of members who wanted more study on a bill designed to throw Communists out of state colleges. The cautious won out and the House agreed unanimously to postpone further debate until Thursday morning.

"I yield to no one on my loyalty to my country," said 80-year-old Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso. "But I don't want this House to take up something as important as this without due consideration."

The bill had swirled through the House this morning in an outburst of oratory. Author Sam Hanna of Dallas got unanimous consent to introduce it. The Education Committee met immediately and approved it. Within 15 minutes the House had given unanimous consent for the bill to be brought up for debate.

Hanna's bill would require every teacher, student or employee of any state college to sign an affidavit of his loyalty to the constitution and swear that he was not a member of any subversive organization.

Jester Goes After Car Tax Loopholes

AUSTIN (U) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today urged a tax-tightening measure that he estimated would bring the state an additional quarter of a million dollars revenue annually.

Incorrect affidavits filed on the 1 per cent motor vehicle sales tax are costing the state "an enormous amount of revenue," Jester said in a message giving emergency status to legislation designed to plug the loophole.

His state tax board, appointed to look for new sources of revenue within the present tax structure, found the leak.

The law provides now that buyers of new and used cars, buses and trucks pay a tax on the "true and correct" amount paid for them.

Cases have been found where the motor vehicle dealers had prepared the affidavits, showing market values apparently under the true sales price. Others have omitted or understated trade-in values, the tax board reported.

The board recommended that the car seller and purchaser be required to sign the affidavit and that both be subject to penalties for violation.

New Cyclotron Is Dedicated

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U) — One of two machines in the world that produces man-made cosmic rays, the University of Rochester's giant cyclotron, was dedicated today.

The machine is essentially an enormous magnet, as high and wide as a dwelling house.

It is a mass of steel weighing 1,100 tons. It is painted red except the two poles of the magnet, which are shining steel. The horizontal poles are round and their ends flat. Each is the size of a big dining room table. In the gap between them is space enough to sit on one pole without bumping your head on the other.

In this gap energies of 250 million electron volts are created. In the gap heavy particles of matter called protons swing "round and round at velocities near the speed of light."

The speeding particles are let fly, like stones from a sling, and when one of these particles hits a bit of solid matter it knocks loose a particle called a meson.

Exactly what a meson is scientists do not know. But both the 250 million-volt protons and the mesons are the same particles which rain down upon the earth from an unknown source in the sky and are called cosmic rays.

The mesons appear to be fragments of the energy which binds the cores or nuclei of atoms so tightly that the splitting makes atomic bombs and atomic power. These fragments seem to be bits of energy which momentarily and temporarily are changed into solid matter.

The world's other known meson-making machine is at the University of California. The Rochester machine was built with funds of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, the Office of Naval Research and the university.

House Approves Waterways Bill

WASHINGTON (U) — The House passed today a $593,292,270 money bill for waterways projects and other Army civil functions during the year starting July 1.

The measure, approved by voice vote, now goes to the Senate.

The approved total is $6,630,270 more than that recommended by the House Appropriations Committee. Chief increase was one of six million dollars for flood control work in the lower Mississippi River.

Strike Ended

SHREVEPORT, La. (U) — A strike of typographical workers on the Shreveport Times and the Shreveport Journal has been settled.

Typographical workers, who walked out last Thursday afternoon, returned to work Monday.

The publishers and the union issued a joint statement.

The strike of the printers against the Shreveport Times and the Shreveport Journal has been settled to the satisfaction of the publishers and the union. The union has accepted the wage increase of 15 cents per hour offered by the publishers prior to the strike.

Both papers continued publication during the strike.

The president of the International Typographical Workers Local 155 (AFL), N. A. Neely, said the former wage scale was $1.97 1/2 per hour for day work and $2.05 per hour for night work.

Cabinet to Meet 'Very Great Age' Is Now His Goal, President Says

WASHINGTON (U) — President Truman said Monday night he is trying to build up a cabinet that can meet the "very great age" America is now facing.

"And I think I am succeeding in doing it," he told about 250 top government leaders at a testimonial dinner given for the new secretary of defense, Louis Johnson.

Johnson was sworn in Monday with probably the most elaborate ceremonies ever accorded a cabinet member. He succeeds James Forrestal, who resigned.

Forrestal received the Distinguished Service Medal from the President in a surprise ceremony when he called at the White House after Johnson took office. The President said: "You deserve it, Jim."

Mr. Truman praised both Forrestal and his successor at the testimonial dinner at the Mayflower. Then, turning to the world picture, he said:

"We are faced with a great many problems, both in this hemisphere and in the Eastern Hemisphere. We have been trying to meet those problems to the best of our ability, and I believe that when the history of the years after the war are written objectively and not politically, that we will have nothing to be ashamed of or sorry for."

As to his cabinet, he said: "I think we are facing a very great age, and I have been trying to build up a presidential family—a cabinet—that can meet that age. And I think that I am succeeding in doing it."

Lions Hear Travelogue

Jack Yates of Gladewater was guest speaker when the Lions Club held its weekly luncheon session Tuesday. He was accompanied by Tommy Randolph, also of Gladewater.

Ernest Smith, program chairman, introduced Mr. Yates, who spoke on his travels to Canada and Alaska last summer.

Beginning at Gladewater, Mr. Yates and a friend drove to Amarillo, Denver, Cheyenne, Billings and on into the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia. After visiting Banff and Lake Louise, the couple moved into Alaska, stopping at Fairbanks.

In recounting his experiences, Mr. Yates described the country-side and the people and, in some cases, made price comparisons and talked of populations in the various settlements and communities. He also told of agricultural development and delved into customs and habits of the different peoples he encountered.

The climax of his journey was reached in a flight to the Arctic Circle, where he and his party stayed with Eskimos. From that location, they flew over a corner of Siberia and returned.

It was a trip similar to several Mr. Yates has made in past years, as he is a hunter and goes North for big game.

A report on the proceeds from the recent Lions Luncheon charity show was made by financial chairman Floyd Williams. He announced that the net profit thus far amounted to $2,753.63 which figure, according to Mr. Williams, was almost complete.

The club elected to meet at the Methodist Church on Tuesday, April 5, in the educational annex. The meeting Tuesday, April 19, will not be held, since the membership will meet in joint session with the Kiwanis and other civic clubs Wednesday, April 20, to hear Martin Dies.

The club voted to support the Junior Chamber of Commerce cleanup drive which begins next Monday and urged cooperation so that an outstanding job can be accomplished.

Kaiser-Frazer Slashes Prices

DETROIT (U) — Kaiser-Frazer Corp. slashed its car prices today—the auto industry's second price cut within a month's time.

Simultaneously, Kaiser-Frazer announced a change in top management.

The price cuts ranged from $198 up to $333 on K-F's various models, by far the largest of any cuts in the industry since the end of the war.

The company said in a statement that it was "entering a broader mass market" and was "offering the public the lowest priced big cars in the world."

Coupled with the price cut was the elevation of Edgar F. Kaiser to the presidency of Kaiser-Frazer.

Kaiser, son of Board Chairman Henry J. Kaiser, succeeded Joseph W. Frazer, who becomes vice chairman of the board, a newly created post.

The younger Kaiser was formerly vice president and general manager. His father and Frazer founded the auto company in 1945.

Other officers elected were Brodie W. Carrington, vice commander and Edgar Willis, adjutant.

The organization will meet in the county courtroom on the first Monday of each month at 8 o'clock, the adjutant said today in announcing names of the officers.

In addition to the officers, charter members of the post are James D. McCombs, W. Hays Moore, Roy Allen, George D. Robins, Ray Downer, Henry Woodley, J. F. Bell, William B. Scott, Grover E. Hall and Glen Huff.

Although the cause of sunspots is unknown, they are known to consist of conical "torus" which are sometimes 20,000 miles high.

The Second Guess

By TOWNSEND MILLER

One indication that the St. Louis Browns have serious intentions of making the Marshall Browns one of the most important links in their huge minor league farm system is that the parent club regards Marshall as one of only five "ownership clubs" in the organization.

The other 13 are placed in an entirely different category. Actually, the Browns do not own any stock in the local organization, but they will own all the players.

The parent club will have full control over the Marshall playing personnel concerning trades to and from one club to another, and it will be their responsibility to furnish Marshall with a winning team.

There are seven Class C clubs in the Browns system, but only one other besides Marshall is an ownership club. That is the Glove-Miami, Ariz.

The other three are of higher classification—Class AA San Antonio, Class A Elmira, N. Y., and Class B Springfield, Ill.

The Browns own the San Antonio Missions, the stock, and barrel including the new three-quarter million dollar ball park.

From AAA on Down

Top minor league team in the St. Louis farm system is Baltimore of the AAA International League. Class AA San Antonio and Class A Elmira are the next two steps down, and there are two B clubs, Wichita Falls and Springfield.

Seven Class C clubs and six Class D organizations complete the eighteen-club farm system.

Thirteen of them are in training with our own Browns at Pine Bluff, Baltimore, San Antonio, and Wichita Falls, are holding their own training camps, and two California teams, Class C Salinas and Class D Redding, were not required to make the long trip to Arkansas.

A complete list of St. Louis Browns minor league clubs follows: Baltimore, Md., International League AAA; San Antonio, Texas League AA; Elmira, N. Y., Eastern League A; Wichita Falls, Big State League B; Springfield, Ill., Three I League B; Globe-Miami, Ariz., Arizona League C; Gloversville, N. Y., Canadian-American League C; Aberdeen, S. D., Northern League C; Muskogee, Okla., Western Association C; Pine Bluff, Ark., Cotton States League C; Salinas, Calif., Sunbelt League C; Redding, Calif., Far West League D; Pittsburg, Kan., KOM League D; Mayfield, Ky., Kitty League D; Olean, N. Y., Pony League D; Ada, Okla., Sooner State League D; and Wausau, Wis., Wisconsin State League D.

Local Fans Miss Out

Here's a good bet that a lot of Marshall baseball fans seem to be missing.

Three fans can chip in together and buy one of the Marshall baseball club's season tickets for $37.50, split the ticket between them, and each of them can see 23 games for $12.50. That's just a little more than 50 cents a game, and it sure beats paying six bits every trip to the ball park.

Of course the same kind of deal could be worked for two, four, or five persons splitting a book of the tickets.

It's so good it looks like stealing, but it's perfectly legitimate.

Dudley Taylor, Milton Tyler, or any others on the sales committee will be glad to assist by selling you the book.

But, you'd better hurry—Thursday is the deadline!

Mav Baseballers Tackle Lobos On Longview Field

Three Games In District 8 On Schedule

Coach Charlie Flowers' Marshall Mavericks left for Longview this afternoon where they are scheduled to meet the defending champion Lobos on Legion field at 4 o'clock in the second District 8-AA game for both teams.

Hollis Morton is slated to toe the rubber for the Mavs, and Barney Bell will be Coach Ed Dusek's choice of hurlers for the Lobos.

The Mavericks were upset 6-5 in extra innings in their opener against Kilgore last week. Longview beat Texarkana 1-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Bell, but there seems to be some reason to partially discount the Lobo victory since the Bears had been able to hold only a half-dozen workouts prior to the game.

In other district games carded for today, Texarkana plays Tyler at Tyler, and Henderson goes to Kilgore. Gladewater is idle.

Kilgore will attempt to make up its rained-out game with Texarkana Thursday at Texarkana.

Friday the Mavericks play Tyler here, Kilgore goes to Gladewater, and Henderson plays host to Texarkana.

10-Club Church Loop Set

By TOWNSEND MILLER

Aaron Woodfin was elected president of the Church Softball League, and ten local churches filed formal entries for 1949 play at an organizational meeting of the loop held last night at the First Baptist Church.

Other new business included the appointment of a schedule committee, lowering of the minimum age limit to include 14-year-olds, and extension of the entry deadline through this week to permit entrance of churches which might want to come into the league under this more liberal ruling.

Other officers elected were Raymond Sellers, vice-president, and Gale Wilson, secretary.

Play will get underway April 18 with teams playing two games each week. In all probability, both parks will be used.

Official softball rules for 1949 have been adopted except that ten men may be fielded by each team. Eligibility rules require that a player be a member of the church for which he plays, that he be at least 14 years of age, that he attend services of his church at least two of the four Sundays prior to any game in which he shall play, and that he must not play in any other softball league.

The entry fee for each team has been set at $10.

Before the opening of play, a final meeting will be held April 11, at which time entry fees will be due, and representatives will adopt a schedule and make final plans for the season.

Appointed to the schedule committee were Harold Johnson, Leo Hightower, and Manee (Jug) Thomas, who has volunteered to act as chief umpire for the season without pay.

The committee announced it will complete a practice schedule within the next few days so that teams may begin playing warm-up tilts.

The league has adopted the Goldsmith ball as official, and teams plan to buy them at quantity prices.

Each team is to furnish its own bats, balls, and personal equipment for league play.

Representatives discussed the possibility of having league players and officials serve as voluntary members of the opening-day ticket sales force for the Marshall Browns baseball club. This action will probably be taken at a later date.

Last Monday night the group passed a motion that no games be scheduled on the night of the Browns' first home game April 21.

The ten churches which have filed formal entries are: Summit Street Methodist, Central Baptist, First Presbyterian, First Methodist, Second Baptist, Fort Caddo Baptist, Trinity Episcopal, and Cumberland Presbyterian.

Prisoner Who Took Own Case to U.S. Supreme Court, Released Under Bond

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 27-year-old prisoner who used his self-acquired knowledge of law to carry his case to the U. S. Supreme Court is free in bail today after serving 10 years and five months. Elmer Uveges was released from Western State Penitentiary on $1,000 bail Monday by Judge Sara M. Soffel to await the next step in his battle for freedom.

Uveges, who was sent to the prison in October, 1938, to serve 30 to 40 years on burglary charges, spent much of his time in study. He completed his college education and studied law so that he could prepare his own briefs and petitions.

Uveges' petition for a hearing on a habeas corpus writ. Last week the State Supreme Court ordered that his guilty plea be vacated and directed that he be arraigned on the indictments against him.

Attorney Albert Flock, of Pittsburgh, who became interested in Uveges' case, refused to permit him to enter a plea before Judge Soffel on the grounds that Uveges had never been formally indicted. Flock also contended the statute of limitations will prevent Uveges' indictment on the burglary charges.

Judge Soffel ordered the case heard by three judges sitting en banc.

New Formula For Rebellion

SEOUL (AP) — One government's formula for ending guerrilla warfare: Offer the rebels food, clothing, baths and haircuts — and tell them all is forgiven. That's what the new Republic of Korea has done. And military observers said today — with fingers crossed — it appears to have pretty well stopped the trouble in South Korea and Chejo Island.

Credit Curbs Relaxed In Securities Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lessening worry about inflation was apparent today in the Federal Reserve Board's decision to make it easier to invest in stocks.

The board, which controls the volume of money and credit, already had made it easier to buy autos, furniture, etc., on the installment plan. Then Monday night, it decreed that stocks may be bought after today with a cash down payment of 50 per cent as compared to the 75 per cent required for the last two years. The cut is warranted, the board said, by the "general credit situation."

LEGAL NOTICE

Certificate No. 147
Company No. A-247
Board of Insurance Commissioners
Of the State of Texas
Austin, Texas, March 10, 1949.
To Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that American Security Life Insurance Company, Marshall, Texas, has according to sworn statements precedent to its doing business in this State, and I have issued to said company a Certificate of Authority from this office entitling it to do business in this State for the year ending May 31, 1950.
Given under my hand and my seal of office at Austin, Texas, the date first above written.
(Seal)
GEORGE B. BUTLER,
Chairman of the Board.
15-22-39

The board's order was issued in the wake of a flow of government reports showing employment production, prices, bank loans and sales of many goods coursing down together in early 1949.

Not in four years — since the approaching end of the war made the board in 1945 fearful of an inflationary boom spreading out of the stock markets — had the board made securities buying credit so liberal.

Throughout 1948, when it was sounding the gong against inflationary fires, the board banned grant of any credit to stock buyers. The shift in the board's views on the economic state were underlined by the fact that easier "stock margin requirements" were authorized on the heels of consumer credit control relaxation March 3.

In the earlier move, installment buyers were given 21 months to finish paying off, thus lengthening payment time by three to six months for various goods and, consequently, making each month's installment smaller.

The cash down payment on all goods but autos also was cut to 15 per cent from the previous 20 per cent level, although downpayments on cars were held at 33 per cent. What easier credit might do to stock prices and the volume of stock trading, which has been unusually light for many weeks, was something for which there was no answer in advance.

In New York, Wall Streeters greeted the announcement as one that was long overdue. Harold L. Bache of Bache & Co. said: "It should tend to broaden our markets by enlarging buying power. It should aid in stimulating the use of risk capital." However, few brokers expected to see much increase in the volume of business on security exchanges.

New Cruiser To Join Fleet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The world's most powerful light cruiser will join the United States Fleet Monday.

On that day, the U. S. S. Roanoke will be commissioned at the Philadelphia Naval Base. A sister ship of the U. S. S. Worcester, the Roanoke cost $30 million and required over four years to build. She has a beam of 70 feet, displaces 17,000 tons and has a designed speed of 33 knots.

The Roanoke was launched two years ago by Julia Ann Henebry, Rollins College student and daughter of the then-mayor of Roanoke, Va.

The new cruiser is the second ship in United States naval history to bear the name Roanoke. The first was a wooden screw steam frigate launched Dec. 13, 1855.

The Roanoke will be manned by 51 officers and 922 enlisted men. She has a main battery of 12 new semi-automatic six-inch guns housed in six turrets.

Carthage Set for City Improvement Campaign

News Messenger News Service
CARTHAGE — City manager Jack Horner and city officials have made plans for Carthage that will make it a first-rate town when money and time permit. A consulting engineer has been employed for a study on water and sewage and garbage rates so that a master plan of extension may be made. Royce E. Wisenbaker, of Tyler is making this study.

A local engineer has also been retained to make a lot and block map showing ownership of property, and the firm of Pritchard and Abbot has been employed to make an equalization survey on all city property for tax purposes. These two jobs will be completed in time for tax rolls to be made up in September as the fiscal year ends on October 1.

ON 1942 VALUES
All property within the city limits, including individual and utility company's land and improvements, will be under this survey, and tax payments will be made up according to the real value of property, based on 1942 values, not on inflated values. Those who do not have advantage of city improvements at this time will not be asked to pay the same taxes as the others. This particularly applies to those within the outer edge of the new city limits who have not been served with water and sewage connections.

A new water well will be drilled this year. Sewage extensions of about 2000 feet will be made within the next month where it is needed most. The city has laid sewer lines, and where residents have not taken advantage of them, they will be required to tie on to the lines rather than continue with unsanitary facilities.

CAR FOR POLICE
A new police car has been bought to patrol the streets to enforce laws against reckless driving. The speed limit is 30 miles per hour everywhere except around the square and in the school zone where it is 15 miles per hour.

A pound has been built and a man employed to pick up loose stock which will be held three days, advertised for five days, and sold after that if it is not claimed. A charge of $2.50 per head, plus $1.00 per day for keeping, will be charged for stock impounded.

After April 1, all dogs allowed to run at large must be tagged and vaccinated and must wear tags on their collars. A licensed veterinarian will be available each Friday afternoon at the City Park to take care of dogs.

LETTER MAILED OUT
The city will enforce regulations against following the fire truck to fires. Running over the fire hose or blocking the fire truck or firemen is a fineable offense ranging from $10 to $200.

The city commission, composed of N. E. Walker, Gordon Darnell, John Neal, Byron Leewright, L. E. Page and the city manager have sent out a news letter advising people of these changes and soliciting their cooperation.

He rushed to the hospital to learn his wife and the 6-pound 4-ounce infant were doing nicely. He was much relieved. His wife, Virginia, 28, is a polio victim and has been in an iron lung since last Nov. 15.

LINE HIGHWAY

Wisteria at Height Of Blooming Season

Wisteria along the Marshall-Shreveport highway has reached the height of its blooming season, bringing comment from beauty lovers that it compares favorably with the more widely publicized dogwood and azalea "trails."

More than 4,000 wisteria plants line the highway along much of the 28 miles between the two cities.

A mild winter is given much of the credit for the abundance of purple blooms which longtime residents say exceeds that of other years.

This is in sharp contrast to the dogwood trails around Palestine, where civic leaders have requested visitors to wait until next year. Late freezes virtually eliminated the blooms which have made that "trail" famous.

O. H. Clark, president of the Chamber of Commerce, noted the wealth of wisteria blooms with the comment that it is a feature which should be used to further publicize Marshall.

Atom Energy For Transportation Held Long Way Off

WASHINGTON (U)—America cannot count in the foreseeable future on the development of atomic energy for transportation, warned Secretary of the Interior Krug today.

Instead, it will have to stick along with oil, he said in his annual report.

He predicted a "transportation collapse" if war cuts off foreign oil sources, and urged a quick start on building an industry to extract oil from shale and coal.

He also declared the nation's water power works need large-scale expansion over the next 20 years, mostly with some $15 billion worth of new government plants; and said the search for scarce vital minerals such as copper, lead and zinc must be stepped-up.

The Port of New York has a total shoreline of 771 miles in New York and New Jersey, with 2,000 piers, wharves and quays.
